TROOPS ROUT LOOTERS IN CHILE CAPITAL

Santiago, Chile, (AP) — Troops enforced a nervous peace in Chile's capital early today after dispersing bands of anti-inflation demonstrators and looters with machinegun fire.

At least four more persons were reported killed and hundreds rounded up in a new outbreak last night in the capital. The violent disorders have swept Santiago for two days.

A large detachment of troops routed about 150 persons atop a small hill in the center of the city. The authorities said this group was a band of looters who had hidden while waiting for nightfall to cover their depredations.

Earlier the troops routed another band of demonstrators from a downtown building.

Daylight yesterday brought a resumption of the demonstrations that have plagued Chile more than a week in protest against skyrocketing living costs. Police and troops clashed repeatedly as mobs surged through the streets.

Report of the number of casualties conflicted. Reliable non-official sources estimated at least 44 persons had been killed and from 155 to 350 injured. Property damage was put at more than two million dollars.

A state of siege was declared over the entire country Tuesday night by President Carlos Ibáñez's government, but the rioters defied the emergency military law to continue their protests. Truckloads of demonstrators poured in from the outlying poorer sections of Santiago to join in yesterday.

A crowd of about 1,000 attacked police and army troops. An assault on the Pan-American Bank was turned back by gunfire. The presidential palace and other government buildings were stoned.

Many Injured When Tornado Strikes T. B. Sanatorium

Jackson, Miss. (AP) — A tornado struck the Mississippi State Sanatorium for Tuberculosis early today, injuring 50 to 75 patients. Two other tornadoes ripped other parts of the state during the night, killing one person and injuring at least seven others.

The funnel cloud which hit the tuberculosis institution at Sanatorium in south Mississippi near Jackson at about 1 a. m. concentrated its fury on the Negro infirmary housing about 200 patients.

"Fifty to 75 were injured, and three of them are in serious condition," said Dr. Henry Boswell, the superintendent. "All suffered cuts and abrasions."

The other tornadoes occurred in a Negro community near Sylva, Tenn. in south Mississippi. About 15 plantation workers' homes were blown away near Glen Allen.

Greatest Show on Earth Opens With Benefit for Cancer Fund

By EDWARD NICKERSON
New York (AP) — An enormous red cat with a big smile, an light on its nose and a yellow rubber duck on top of his head had just gone by the small girl in the front row at Madison Square Garden last night.

The little spectator, aged 4 and named Vickie, was then asked what she liked best in the whole circus.

"Clowns," she exclaimed, and went back immediately to her lollipop and the three-ring "Greatest Show on Earth"—Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey Circus, which opened its season with a benefit show for the New York Cancer Committee.

House Is Facing 17 Roll-Call Votes To Determine Sharpest Budget Cut in Recent Years

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

Washington (AP) — The House faced the wearing prospect today of 17 roll-call votes to determine whether it wants to make official one of its sharpest budget-cutting drives in years.

The votes are scheduled on 17 separate amendments which trimmed $68,647,300 from new appropriations for the Departments of Labor and Welfare and the National Labor Relations Board. The reductions, added to cuts previously made by the Appropriations Committee and upheld by the House, amounted to $187,422,000 from a total of $2,981,277,551 requested by President Eisenhower.

All the House-instigated reductions, enforced by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats, were tentative but most of them were imposed by hefty margins on standing votes. If the House stands fast, it will boost to almost one billion dollars its total cuts on new appropriations for the year starting July 1.

The Senate, which frequently restores many House-voted cuts, has not acted on any appropriation bills.

Sen. Robertson (D-Va.) said Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has asked the Senate to restore $8,205,000 of a $22,364,000 cut made by the House in Treasury Department funds. Humphrey had told an Appropriations subcommittee headed by Robertson he would accept the House cuts.

But the senator said he since has received a letter from Humphrey asking restoration of funds for replacement of Coast Guard planes described as antiquated.

Behind the House drive to cut the money bills was the hope of many members that the reductions might make possible a cut in taxes next year, a congressional year.

P. O. Services May Encounter Sharp Cutback

By MARTHA COLE

Washington (AP) — The Post Office Department appeared ready today to go through with sharp cutbacks in postal services unless it gets the 47 million dollars it says it needs for the next three months.

The cutbacks would go into effect Saturday.

A House Appropriations subcommittee recommended yesterday that the department be "given 17 millions."

There were indications that even this might have rocky going in the full Appropriations Committee. Rep. Cannon (D-Mo.), chairman of the full committee, accused the Post Office Department of an 11th-hour attempt "to sandbag us with threats."

The department's stand was backed by spokesmen for organizations of mailmen and postmasters, who protested that denial of the 47 millions would be "disastrous" to the mail service and to postal employees.

The Appropriations subcommittee acted yesterday after Postmaster General Summerfield reportedly told it he needed the extra funds to operate through June 30 because of heavier-than-expected expenses.

Summerfield was quoted as saying that unless he was given assurances that his department would get the 47 millions, he would have to order immediate drastic service reductions, including a halt in city and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays, and closing of post offices on Saturdays.

Discontinuance of money order sales and reduction of mail deliveries in city business districts to one a day.

Republicans on the nine-man subcommittee tried to get the full 47 millions, but they were outvoted by the Democratic majority, which settled on the 17-million-dollar figure.

Justice of the Peace Thomas McClain of Mercer revealed last night that the three were brought before him this week by agents of the liquor control board. McClain said he had been requested by the agents not to reveal any information about the case.

Actually the agents confiscated about three cases of beer but charges were filed on the basis of only five bottles, McClain said.

There were unconfirmed reports that Pennsylvania officials are making border checks to prevent untaxed liquor and cigarettes from being transported into Pennsylvania. Such checks are made periodically by various state agencies.

Some States Study Plans To Cut Down Deaths on Highways

By GLENN WOLF

Associated Press Staff Writer
The nation's highways yielded 40,000 traffic fatalities in 1956 and this April finds state legislatures studying proposed legislation in at least six fields to try to reduce the number.

An Associated Press survey showed nearly two thirds of the state governments casting about for new laws to help solve the accident problem.

Action to date ranges from the recommendation stage to newly signed statutes.

Legislation includes bills or requests to enlarge state police and law enforcement agencies set down absolute speed limits, tighten driver licensing procedures, dole out stiffer penalties for drunken driver, institute state sponsored and financed driver education programs, install statewide motor vehicle testing procedures, and make liability insurance compulsory.

The survey showed 29 states considering legislation to put more state police on the highways.

Sleet and Snow Cause Spring Weather Picture To Sog Back; Highway Crews Are Kept Busy

Warren county spring weather picture sogged back into focus this morning as driving sleet turned an overnight snowfall of five inches into a rich layer of slush.

The damp snow accumulated from midnight to dawn as 42 inches of precipitation descended, according to weather observer Gil Reier.

Spring being what it is, the snow was expected to head shortly for Allegheny River and Pittsburgh with no damage, despite "dam" pleas by Chamber of Commerce officials there.

Temperatures hovered in the mid-30's this morning but were rising slowly in early afternoon. The snow blanket, generously wet, was presumed to be the tag-end of storms leaving 8-foot drifts which clogged western traffic to a standstill earlier this week.

Full highway crews were out in force this morning clearing slushy roads which slowed all traffic moving in early hours.

Only one accident had been reported by noon, however. That occurred at 1:15 a. m. as a south-bound car on Route 62 heading toward Warren, skidded on slippery pavements and rammed into Thelma Sandeen of North Warren who was heading north a mile above Warren. Driver of the other car was Richard Codell, 50, of Van Ettan, Pa. State Troopers had no damage estimate.

River stage at noon today was reported at 4.9 feet. Flood-conscious Warren was resting assured that it would take several days of steady rain before the Allegheny river reached flood stage of 14 feet, and damage stages above that.

There is no snow in the back country this spring.

Inquiry Stirs Interest In Labor Unions

By NORMAN WALKER

Washington (AP) — For a decade, most labor unions have been required to file annual financial reports with the government. In all that time only about 200 citizens have ever seen them.

Reports from some 40,000 national and local unions are promptly locked away in Labor Department vaults on receipt.

Congress seems to have planned things that way in writing the Taft-Hartley law in 1947. Many legislators now feel that was a mistake which Congress should correct quickly.

Recent disclosures by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of alleged misuse of large sums of union money have brought renewed interest in the problem.

Numerous legislators have recommended that (1) the Labor Department records of union financial data should be opened to everyone, and (2) Congress should enact a new law requiring similar data to be filed with the government and made public regarding multibillion-dollar welfare funds.

But 10 years ago in enacting the Taft-Hartley Act Congress thought differently. It included no provision for filing welfare fund data at all. It required unions using services of the National Labor Relations Board to file the annual union treasury statements, but made no provision for making them public.

Kassel, Germany, (AP) — The U. S. Army's Berlin-to-Frankfurt military train rammed into a German express train today, federal railway officials reported. Four Germans were killed and 14 injured. The official said no Americans were hurt. The German express, running from Kiel on the Baltic Sea to Lindau in Bavaria, was waiting at a signal stop when the American train hit it.

Plans to conduct the third annual Teen-Age Driving Road-e-o have been made by the Warren Jaycees.

The Road-e-o will consist of a written examination and a skill test involving driving through prescribed exercises such as parking, smooth stopping and others. The location for the competition has not yet been determined but will be announced at a later date.

Bob Geiger, local Jaycee president said five sub-committees have been organized under the general chairmanship of Bill Dyke to carry out the various aspects of the program.

Eligible are drivers who will not have reached the age of 20 by August 15, last day of the national finals in Washington; hold operators licenses or permits; and have clean records of no moving traffic violations in the past six months.

A secondary purpose of the competition is to stimulate community interest in classroom and behind-the-wheel training classes for high school drivers.

MIDNIGHT DEADLINE FOR FINAL ACTION

By LEONARD A. UNGER

Harrisburg (AP) — Gov. Le today faced perhaps one of toughest decisions in his 27 months as Pennsylvania's chief executive—whether he should veto sales tax exemptions for industry.

Approval before a midnight deadline would mean giving the already has termed a tax b "smacking of greed and tax-doling" to manufacturers, utility and shipyards.

Rejection would mean the 3 cent levy would drop to 2 cent June 1 and retention of court-suspended stamp plan collecting the tax, a system obnoxious to the Leader administration.

Republicans contend the trial exemptions do no more intended when they pushed original 3 per cent law thru the legislature last year.

It was anybody's guess a what Leader would do. So within the administration, come up with conflicting predictions although veto talk or from fewer of them.

The only outspoken Democrat the subject is Sen. John H. I Democratic floor leader. He w Leader to veto it in scathing l uge, saying the industrial ex tions would cut sales tax rev so sharply that a 2 per cent would yield almost as much.

But the governor's budget visers are cautioning that a could mean a revenue loss o much as 160 million dollars in next two years if the Republ legislature should decide to nothing more about taxes.

House Speaker W. Stuart H (R-Armstrong) freely predicts governor will sign the bill, tending a veto would mean a fight that could drag the leg ture to the proportion of the

Most Teachers Would Choose
Same Career All Over Again

By HERMAN R. ALLEN
Washington (AP) — If they had to start all over, three-fourths of America's 1,100,000 public school teachers probably would teach again.

More than half of the teachers between the ages of 26 and 35 are men — although, over-all, women outnumber men by little more than three to one.

The average teacher's salary is $4,055 per year.

Nearly a third of the married men teachers work outside of school all year around, more than a third during the summer only.

The National Education Assn. reported these findings today from a nationwide sampling which is described as "the first comprehensive survey ever conducted on the professional, economic and social life of the American teacher."

The sample was only one-half of one per cent of all teachers, but NEA research director Sam M.

Lambert said that answers to certain "control" questions check-ed with facts known to apply to all teachers. As a result Lambert said, the NEA is reasonably certain its survey gives an accurate composite picture.

The picture of the woman school teacher as an old maid, the survey disclosed, is out of date. Fifty-four per cent of women teachers are married—about the same proportion as among all American working women—and another 12 per cent are widows.

As for the old idea that teachers are hemmed in with social restrictions, such as bans on smoking, dancing and dating: two-thirds said they felt no such restrictions and only about two per cent said they felt them to a serious extent.

The report was full of such big and little surprises, but perhaps the biggest one was that there are more men than women teachers in the 26-35 age bracket.

Immediately after 35 the difference begins to switch sharply in favor of women. Dr. Hazel Davis, who conducted the survey, said one reason probably is that by the time a man hits 35 his family is beginning to become so large that he has to get out of teaching to support it.

That he may do so reluctantly is indicated by replies.

1958 Termed Key Year For Nation's Crude Oil Industry

Key year for the oil industry is 1958, according to the Oil and Gas
Journal. Expert forecasters say 64,000 wells should be drilled that year if this country is to maintain its reserve position.

The industry is already falling behind. To maintain the reserves ratio, 58,600 wells should have been drilled last year. Only 58,160 were drilled.

Liquid reserves fell from 13.5 times production in 1954 to 12.5 in 1956. This year 61,500 wells should be drilled. Operators have scheduled only 60,000. And it looks as though even that figure won't be met. First-quarter completions are nearly 500 wells below last year—700 short in development wells.

According to the Journal, if the industry doesn't come close to the target of 64,000 wells in 1958, it will be most difficult to catch up with the anticipated need. Then the ratio of crude reserves to annual production will really be on the skids.

The difficulty seems to lie in a lack of incentives and a favorable economic climate needed to foster development drilling. Wildcatting and new discoveries appear to be at satisfactory levels.

Geologists and geophysicists are confident they can keep finding new oil for many years to come.
They need only to be backed up by the follow-up drilling so essential to maintaining proved and recoverable reserves.

The 1956 record shows that locations for new field wildcats based on technical recommendations of geologists and geophysic-ists were 2.1 times as successful as those drilled without such advice. And these exploration people continue to improve their methods and their approaches to oil finding through extensive programs of research.

Indiantown Gap Reservation Will Again Assume Its Role As Important Training Site

(Special Correspondence to The Times-Mirror)
Indiantown Gap — Indiantown Gap Military Reservation will again assume its annual role as a training site for Army Reservists and National Guardsmen this spring and summer.

DREAM MAN—This man has had more dates with different women than a Near East potentate. He's Ted Wood, 52, who squires the winners from the "Queen for a Day" radio and television show. The best restaurants and shows are on his daily itinerary but the charming Englishman never spends a dime of his own money. His wife, incidentally, doesn't mind a bit. It's his job, after all.

HEADS POLE CLUB—Rear Adm. Robert A. J. English, U.S.N., (ret) of San Gabriel, Calif., has been elected president of the American Polar Society in New York City. Admiral English was captain of the "Bear of Oakland" on the late Adm. Richard E. Byrd's Antarctic expedition of 1933-35.

The Post has been selected by Headquarters Second U. S. Army, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland, as one of the major training sites of the Second Army area for the 1957 field encampments of Army Reservists and National Guardsmen.

Headquarters U. S. Army Military District Pennsylvania, commanded by Brigadier General A. W. Stuart, will provide training support facilities for nearly 40,000 Army Reserve and National Guard troops during their 2-week encampment periods, between May 19th and September 8th.

The summer training program will open May 19th with the encampment of the 706th Army Reserve Transportation Group and attached units from Philadelphia.

Major units scheduled to train are: the 176th Regimental Combat Team of the Virginia National Guard, June 8-June 22nd; Pennsylvania's 79th Infantry Division (Army Reserve), June 15-June 29th; 479th Field Artillery Group and attached units (Army Reserve) from Philadelphia, June 23-July 7th; 80th Infantry Division (Army Reserve) from Virginia, District of Columbia and Maryland, July 7-July 21st; 11th Regimental Combat Team, Pennsylvania National Guard, July 13-July 27th; District of Columbia National Guard units, July 21-August 4th; 29th Infantry Division (National Guard) from Maryland, Virginia and West Virginia, August 17-August 31; Pennsylvania National Guard, 28th Infantry Division, August 3-August 17th.

Closing the 1957 program will be Reservists from various states comprising the Civil Affairs and Military Government School Unit, August 25th to September 8th.

Summer training is the high point of Reserve Component training. It involves practical work in the field in the particular unit's Army specialty. In addition Reserve Component training includes 2-hour weekly training sessions in hometown Reserve Centers and Armories during the remainder of the year.

Emphasis of the summer program will be on developing combat skills in men who have not had active Army service, on sharpening techniques of those who have, and on developing unit effectiveness.

It is expected that this year's encampment will provide much of the hard-core training that will bolster the Reserve program throughout the remainder of the year.

Russians "Unlock Heart", End Child's Belief in the Almighty

Moscow (AP) — A high school teacher has reported with pride that one of her pupils doesn't believe in God any more. Zinaida Andreyeva, who teaches biology at Zaporozhe in the Ukraine, called the process "unlocking the child's heart."

Miss Andreyeva gave this account in a letter to the newspaper Ukraine Pravda:

Not long ago she was delivering a nature lecture and told the class that "in counterbalance to science, religion denies the influence of man on his surroundings."

A girl named Marusya jumped from her seat, pale and agitated, shouting:

"Yes, I believe in God. No one can prohibit me. The government does not prohibit it."

The teacher thought this was a strange reaction from a child whose parents, she knew, were nonbelievers. But, "I tried to smooth over the impression of what had taken place, calm the girl and the class, and pass over to a practical explanation of how man changes nature and how all the wealth of the land is subordinated to him."

"When I went home, I thought about what had taken place. I sought for ways to open the locked heart of the child. I invited her over to my house."

"We conversed about the life of people and plants. I gave her books. And little by little she child softened and suddenly began to speak about everything."

The teacher found out that Marusya often went shopping for her mother.

At the grocery the child met a wrinkled little old woman who left a deep impression on her. . . . Many children gathered about her. She taught them how to pray and took them to church on Sundays.

But after the teacher's talks with Marusya the child came running to her one day and said: "You should have seen it. I simply told the old woman politely we do not believe her tales any more."

The teacher wrote that, "The case of Marusya convinced me more than ever to fight religion—which poisons the minds and hearts of people—even more energetically."

Opposition to religion is a basic tenet of communism.

Who rates what for performance and smoother riding in the low-priced three? Chevrolet has laid the answer and the proof on the line!

First, Chevrolet won the Auto Decathlon over every car in its field, and over the higher priced cars that were tested, too. This rugged ten-way test (right, below) showed Chevrolet was the champ in handling ease, braking, acceleration, passing ability, smoothness of ride and other driving qualities you want in a car.

Then, Chevy won the Pure Oil Performance Trophy at Daytona (left, below) as "best performing U. S. automobile."

It's quite a feeling to know that you are driving a car that performs so well, responds so beautifully and is so finely built. You feel proud, of course. But you also enjoy a surer, smoother, steadier way of going, a keen cat-quick response of power, and the easiest handling you've ever experienced behind a wheel. Just try this Chevrolet (V8 or Six) and see!

Chevy showed it's still the champ... at Daytona... and in the Decathlon!

Health Department Extends Drive For Clean Rest Rooms

As one step in the campaign the Health Department has issued an illustrated folder listing standards and recommendation for clean rest rooms.

"A clean rest room is good business," the folder announces.

Owners and operators of public places are advised that "rest rooms are a public service and a convenience. If you provide them and keep them clean, they will be a credit to Pennsylvania and your place of business."

Rest rooms should be clean, well-lighted, conveniently located, and should have attractive surroundings, the folder points out. Recommendations for supplies, and for proper sewage and waste disposal are included.

Dr. Berwyn F. Mattison, State Secretary of Health, said at Harrisburg that the campaign is part of the Department's effort to reduce, or eliminate, wherever possible the spread of communicable diseases. The "clean rest-room program" is under the supervision of the Department's Division of Sanitation.

With the approach of the tourist season, and with hundreds of thousands of out-of-state visitors to Pennsylvania soon to make use of recreational and vacation facilities in the State, the desirability of providing clean and attractive rest rooms becomes more evident, Dr. Mattison noted.

Gasoline service stations, and other places frequented by the public, not now covered by existing programs, will be encouraged to provide improved rest-room facilities in the minority of cases where such facilities now are lacking.

All patrons and friends who wish to do so are urged to avail themselves of the opportunity to become familiar with these educational facilities and the opportunities which they afford to both the youth and adult of this area of Pennsylvania.

MR. AND MRS. HARRY GRAHAM

Children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Graham entertained relatives and friends at a delightful open house in the family home, 700 East street, on Sunday, March 31, to mark the couple's 52nd wedding anniversary.

The table was very attractive, using a color scheme of white and gold, with a lovely floral centerpiece and white candles. A three-tier wedding cake had the numerical "52" on top, and dainty white napkins were imprinted "Carrie and Harry, 1905-1957" in gold.

Pouring were Mrs. Clifford Graham, daughter-in-law of the celebrants, and Mrs. Allan Grosch, their daughter. Aides included Mrs. Leroy Graham, Mrs. Paul Graham, Mrs. Robert Graham, and Mrs. Bill Graham.

Mrs. Graham looked charming in a dress of navy blue lace, which she wore an orchid corsage.

Mr. Graham was remembered with a carnation boutonniere.

The Grahams have lived in Warren all their lives. Mr. Graham a familiar figure in the car business. He owned his own business at one time, but is now retired.

They have seven children: Gilbert, in Atlanta, Ga.; Bill and Robert, Buffalo, N. Y.; Mrs. Allan Grosch, Warren; and triplet sons, their youngest, Paul in Unontown, Clifford of Warren, and Leroy in Rochester, N. Y. They also have 12 grandchildren and one great-grandchild. All their children were able to be home but Gilbert and his family.

The celebrants had a wonderful day and were remembered with many lovely gifts.

Does a swell job in trying to live the part.

Trying to win over Bunny, Carrie and Helen are Jack, Howie and Bill, played in that order by Bob Karlson, Dave Trager and Bob Lundberg and all very likeable chaps.

Dean Gillingham who will be portrayed by Gary Holmberg, is a dignified and stern person, who when he does come down to earth, proves both pleasing and charming. He manages to get things off to a bad start when Abbie first arrives and almost threatens to expel her before things straighten out.

Professor Michaels, played by Dave Sedwick, is a good-looking, attractive zoology teacher whose classes manage to attract all the girls on the campus. Abbie, as well as the others, has a crush on him and, therein, develops a great deal of the excitement.

The play is under the very capable direction of Miss Mary Jane McHenry, English teacher in Warren High, with Nancy Collins, Ann Davidson and Nancy Lanman as her student assistants.

During the business session, routine reports were given and Mrs. Edward Slick reported on the recent Warren Area School. Board meeting. There was a reminder only three more hot dog sales are planned for this semester, and Mrs. Norman Honhart was delegated to obtain a folding table to facilitate the serving at these events.

Warren Seventh-day Adventists reenact instructions laid down by their Lord some 1900 years ago in a special event at the 17th avenue church on Saturday this week, according to the following news release.

At that time, members of the church will participate in the ancient Ordinance of Humility, enacted by Christ preceding the Last Supper, as recorded in John 14-17. This ordinance will be followed by the regular Christian communion.

Preceding the sacred acts of communion and communion, Pastor Albert Neil will read and comment on I Corinthians 11:20-30, which outlines instruction to the church regarding the services.

Unfermented grape juice and leavened bread, symbols of the body and blood of Christ, will be taken in the Communion service. Members will attend following the Ordinance of Humility. Assisting Pastor Neil in the ceremony will be the lay leaders of the church, Mr. Harold Carlson and Mrs. Lewis Nelson.

The special Saturday services are "a re-dedication by individual church members to their baptismal vows," Pastor Neil said.

The service is observed in Seventh-day Adventist churches four times a year.

The Mature Parent

Just One Way to Teach Child To Tolerate Our Criticism

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

JIMMY's mother called him upstairs. When he came, she showed him streaks of tar on his bedspread. "Why did you put those streaks on your bed?" she demanded. "How many times do you have to be told to leave them downstairs? Just how do you expect me to get that tar out of your bedspread?" Jimmy said complacently, "I didn't get it on the bedspread. I left my skates on the floor."

His mother felt a panicky sinking of the heart. Why couldn't Jimmy once take responsibility for making a mistake? What would be the end of this child if he didn't learn to acknowledge a fault—if he continued to evade all criticism by insisting he didn't deserve it?

The answer to these questions lies in her.

JIMMY can admit no mistake out of his conviction that she wants a perfect child. His evasion of any criticism is his effort to satisfy her wish—and assure her she's got one.

If she wants him to learn to tolerate criticism, there's only one way to teach him. She must free him of his conviction that she wants a perfect child by showing him kindness when he behaves like an imperfect one.

To his attempt to present himself as a boy who could never dream of putting his skates on his bed, she must become able to say, "Ah, well—you'll be more careful hereafter. Now let's see if we can correct this mistake. I'll take the spread off the bed and you go downstairs and get out the cleaning fluid."

Unfortunately, parents of children who evade criticism find it almost impossible to treat their mistakes kindly.

THIS is because they are so impatient with their own.

When their child misbehaves, they think, "Oh, this is awful! I should have been able to make this child virtuous." As they realize their obvious failure to produce the perfect child, they get madder and madder at him for reflecting discredit on them. Gradually, they can feel only resentment toward the child whose imperfect conduct exposes them to dreaded criticism.

If we are struggling with a child who resents criticism, the questions to ask ourselves are: Why do I, too, fear criticism? Who gave me standards of accomplishment so relentless that I live in perpetual fear of failing them? Was it a person who loved me—or just someone who used me to reflect credit on him?

Fight Against Old Age Can Result in a Pathetic Look

IN a recent issue of a high-fashion magazine are full-page portraits of two leaders of the fashion world.

Both, in years, are old ladies. But their refusal to admit that they have long since passed the age of youthful glamor has turned their faces into pitiful masks.

With eyebrows arched and darkened, lips painted on to simulate the full-lipped look of youth, thin faces deeply lined from years of trying to keep a "young" figure, heavy bracelets reaching halfway to their elbows and calling attention to their wrinkled arms—their portraits are a sad commentary on the "stay-young-forever" craze.

Those women don't look young—they just look pathetic. They have traded the dignity of age for the silly look of women who refuse to admit that they are old.

You can see women like them any time you go shopping, have lunch in a popular dining room, or attend some large social function. With dyed hair, too much make-up, too young clothes, too much jewelry, they turn themselves into hard-faced caricatures of youth.

DIGNITY OF AGE

BESIDE them, an older woman who isn't pretending to be young looks as fresh and pretty as a flower. White hair softening her face, just the barest touch of make-up, clothes suitable for her age, soft and flattering instead of trying to be "smart," she takes her rightful place in the world as a woman who has lived a long time and isn't ashamed of it.

Every age has its charm and its own particular appeal—if a woman isn't afraid of the age she is.

But let her be so afraid of being old that she tries to look half her age, and all she manages to do is to look pathetic.

Dad Grows Family Respect Along With Slimmer Waist

Vegetables fresh from garden are reward for relaxing hobby.

Not too many years have passed since the man in the house literally "brought home the bacon"—after shooting it in a forest.

Our ancestor was the "provider"—just as is modern man—but the old boy's family was a lot more respectful of the work he put in to keep them fed, clothed and housed. They saw him working twelve hours a day in the field, raising vegetables, and they heard the sharp report of his gun when he bagged some game for the table. The ordeal of keeping a family alive was a damn to duck struggle.

The sons and daughters of the house could see that struggle with their own eyes—and, in those days, Dad was quite a man.

Earning a family's livelihood is considerably easier these days and—at least for city dwellers—it's usually done in an office, a factory or a store. Children no longer see their father doing the work that is translated into the food they eat, or the clothes they wear.

One way to reestablish Dad in his old position as the source of life's necessities is to put him in a backyard vegetable garden. Busy in the quiet, unhurried relaxation of gardening, Dad might also find himself acquiring the slim, trim waistline of his more vigorous ancestors.

There are few more satisfying experiences than harvesting the products of one's own labors and proudly carrying them into the kitchen to be cooked and eaten by one's own family.

There is unexpected delight in store for the man who, for the first time, watches a plant develop from a seed which he has sown. In its maturity, that plant is a tribute to the skill and patience of the gardener.

As he becomes more experienced, the home gardener will want to specialize in particular kinds of vegetables, pitting his ability against the obstacles of nature to develop prized giant tomato, or the sweetest melons in the neighborhood.

One also has the satisfaction of knowing he is providing his children with the best food available—vitamin-packed vegetables whose freshness is undiminished by handling or storage.

It's more than probable that no other hobby could make the man in the house more popular with his family—and, that slimmer down waistline is something to consider, too.

Candy Shop in Times Square to Have Easter Display Opening

A Land of Candies to delight the hearts of tots during Easter morning huntings will be ready for public inspection this Friday and Saturday as Reynolds Candy Shop on Times Square holds its formal opening and Easter Display.

Door prizes and favors for the kiddies will be handed out those two days.

Besides a candy business which outgrew its home office after several years of growing popularity among a widening circle of established patrons, the Reynolds family store at 133 Pennsylvania Avenue, west, opposite Fago's Pennzoil Station, boasts a full complement of party favors, gift shop specialties and a line of youngsters' dresses.

One item which is designed to delight candy lovers this Easter is a series of pastel-hued, chocolate baskets especially created by the Reynolds'. The baskets come in all shades of the rainbow, may be filled with other candies. The shop also features a full line of regular Easter baskets.

And, of course, home-made Easter eggs, all styles, any flavor, any size, with names added free on top, are provided. Baskets will be filled to order.

The Reynolds family, Roy and Bessie and son, Ralph, began their candy making a decade ago at home on 14 South Marion street. The Reynolds took orders and delivered until the size of the business literally drove them from the house and into a larger business establishment.

Other items now on sale are toys, novelties of all sorts, special dolls, mother-daughter apron sets.

Still Time For Klewer Tickets

Participate in the world's best fishing.

Attend Field and Stream Club meeting next Tuesday night in Beatty Auditorium for the best sport pictures of United States southern neighbors.

Movie maker and narrator is Lou Klewer, nationally known sportsman and first rate speaker. His film, "Uttermost Regions of the World" will show the landing of 12 to 14 pound trout in rich South American streams, and spunky huskies pulled from natural habitat in northwestern United States.

Tickets are still available at Don Emleys, United Cigar, Macks News, Ace Auto, Paul the Barb-ers. Children's tickets—half price.

GUM ADDS NEW TOUCH TO EASTER BASKETS

There will be a modern look to many Easter baskets that are being planned to delight youngsters on Easter Sunday morning. Besides the traditional brightly colored eggs and candies, this year's baskets will include colorful glistening packages of their favorite chewing gum. A practical idea, too, as the children can enjoy their gum without getting too full to eat a big Easter dinner. Easter rabbits, take note! This new idea will add to the children's fun, and inexpensively, too.

Marines To Keep The 7½-Year Lid On Reserve Service

Washington, (AP) — The Marine Corps announced today that it will continue to require 7½ years ready reserve service from predraft age youths who volunteer for six months' active duty training in the Marines.

The Marines declined to go along with the Army, which announced last week that six months Army trainees, who sign up before draft age, will hereafter complete their ready reserve obligation in three years.

Marine Corps headquarters said that starting immediately it will accept volunteers among men 18½ through 21 years old for the six-month training program with the understanding that such men will have to remain in the ready reserve and carry on acceptable training for 5½ years.

The Marine Corps had no immediate explanation for this new provision, even though it affects draft-age young men.

Through March 1, the Marines had signed up 8,655 men from the 17 to 18½ group for the six-month program. Nearly half of this total completed the training or is taking it at the regular Marine training centers.

MONSTER

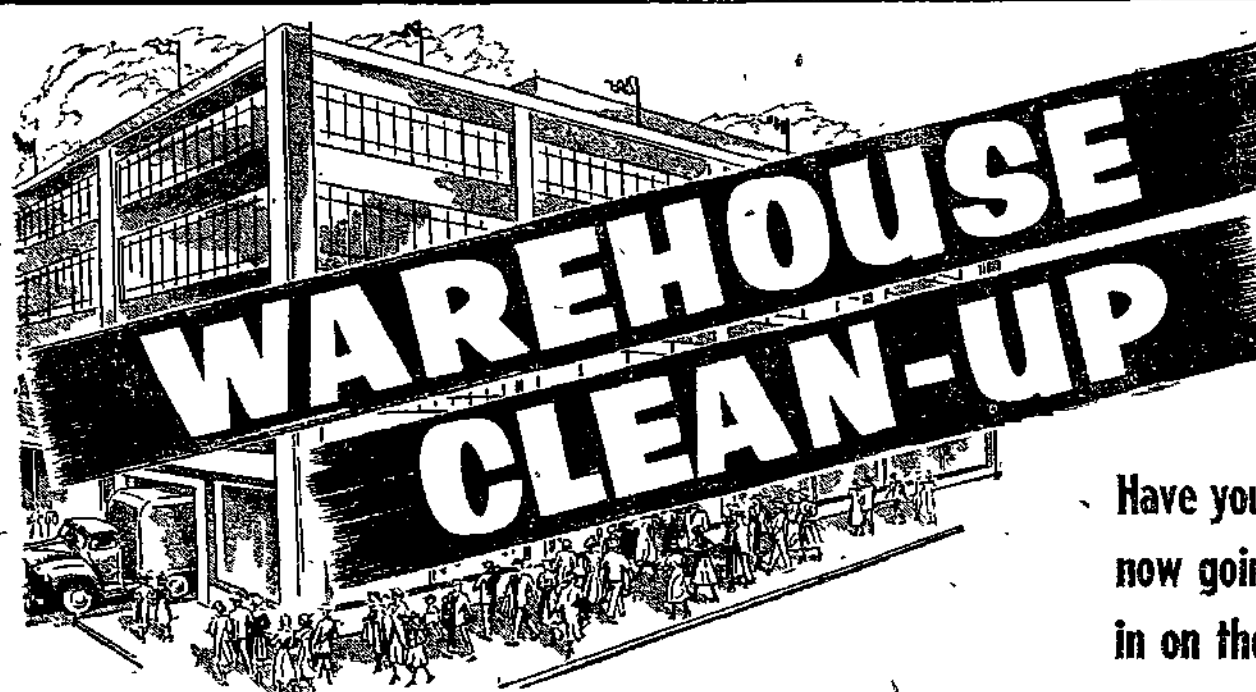

The lion's mane is a jellyfish which sometimes grows into a poisonous monster with as many as 800 100-foot tentacles, is capable of killing a man, and has a pulsating umbrella that spans seven feet in some cases.

We will test any make electric shaver. Nothing escapes the electronic brain of the Universal Shaver Tester. Any repairs that may be necessary will be made at regular factory low prices.

The new Remington Rollectric reaches your Hidden Beard . . . actually shaves below normal shaving level with perfect comfort!

The Rollectric's exclusive Roller Comb principle enables you to shave the Hidden Beard other shaving methods miss. Gives you closer, longer-lasting shaves . . . and the Rollectric's beard-seeking Roller Combs also protect tender facial skin . . . give you an all-comfort shave every time!

HERE'S YOUR HIDDEN BEARD. Whiskers grow in tiny valleys. Ordinary shaving methods skim along the tops of these valleys—shave only the tops of your whiskers. Soon the unshaved base of each whisker will grow out and your Hidden Beard can be seen and felt.

HERE'S HOW REMINGTON GETS IT. Roller Combs gently press the edges of the skin valleys down—pop up those hard-to-get-at whisker bases right into the path of the man-sized shaving head. Each whisker is then sheared off closely, quickly and comfortably.

FCDA Urges 7-Day Emergency Food Supply for All Families

If the United States ever suffers a thermomantic attack, one of the basic problems for America's millions would be food, and how to get enough of it.

In the so-called good old days the family pantry generally was loaded with food—ready for any emergency.

TODAY, THE FEDERAL Civil Defense Administration recommends that every family keep a minimum of a seven-day supply of food in the home for instant use in an emergency. This has become known as Grandma's Pantry.

To estimate how much food is needed for seven days, multiply the number of persons in the family by the amounts shown in the adjoining list for one person. A two or three weeks supply would be more desirable. Foods listed are merely types recommended, not necessarily those which must be stocked.

The items kept on hand should be those staple groceries that are used in your normal pattern of daily serving. By following this plan rotation is no problem, as you replace the items used by shopping frequently.

Suggested Pantry

MILK: One package of powdered, non-fat dry milk, and two 14½ oz. cans of evaporated milk.
FRUITS: One 1 lb 14 oz. can each of two varieties of canned fruits, and 1 lb. of dried fruits.
JUICES: Three cans of approximately 1 qt 14 oz. each of fruit or vegetable juice.
VEGETABLES: Six cans (approximately 1 lb each) of vegetables.
BEVERAGES: Four 10½ oz. cans.
MEATS AND MEAT SUBSTITUTES: Four cans (approximately 1 lb. each) of your favorite items. Include cheese or peanut butter if desired.
CEREALS: Seven individual-service packages of ready-to-eat variety.
BREAD: The canned varieties.
CRACKERS-COOKIES: One box.
BEVERAGES: One small jar of instant coffee, one of instant tea, or a 1 lb. package of instant cocoa, which is your family's preference.
SOFT DRINKS: Twelve bottles.
SUPPLEMENTARY ITEMS: Sugar, salt, seasonings, candy (types that store well), chewing gum, and cigarettes and tobacco.
CAUTION: Store these items like Grandma did—in a cool basement or storeroom within a temperature range of 55 to 60 degrees for best results. Check your "pantry" preferably weekly but at least monthly and rotate items regularly. Use within six months. Bottled water should be changed every six weeks.

enough not to deplete your supply to an appreciable extent.

IF YOUR CHILDREN are young, decrease the amounts by one-fourth. If the children are infants, canned baby foods should be substituted for some of the other canned foods. And don't forget—be sure to plan for old people or invalids.

Another word of caution: check your "pantry" at least monthly, and rotate items regularly. Bottled water, for instance, should be changed every six weeks.

Essential items for your stockroom should include two gallons of water in jugs or bottles for each person, and three gallons for each child under three years old. You should also maintain a supply of salt and sugar, matches, fuel, cooking utensils, a can opener, and tableware. You would also do well to have in your storage room a portable radio, flashlight, candles and holders, first-aid kit, blankets, pail and garbage container.

On the lighter side, you might add a supply of games and toys for the children.

Well Known Doctor Gives Program At
 heffield Meeting

Sheffield—Dr. J. C. Mull had the Tuesday program for Rotary Club, and he began by reading a humorous article from the magazine,
 "Post-Graduate Medicine". Occur-ing at this time of the year, the article naturally dealt with income tax, and the highlight was an interview between an internal review agent and a doctor taxpayer.
 Dr. Mull showed colored slides taken in this vicinity, showing gorgeous autumn colors and then passed into the deep snows of winter. The photography was excellent and his selection of locations brought out wonderful contrasts in the autumn pictures between the beautiful coloring of the trees as contrasted with the deep green of the evergreens. The winter scenes were taken along the creeks and also back in the depth of the woods.
 The views accentuated the beauties that surrounded us every day and that makes this section of Pennsylvania one of the beauty spots of the country.
 There were 24 members present at the meeting, and Dr. J. A. Allen was welcomed back from a vacation in Florida. Three high school seniors George Andrews, Tom Ashmore and Philip Alling were guests.
 The Governor's monthly letter was read advising the membership of the District Assembly to be held in Corry May 10 and 11.

Mrs. Nora Stevenson, Hamburg,

 Mrs. Grant Mottern left Wedley.

 Mrs. Bertha Wolfe, left yesterday for Mars, Pa., where she will join her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Farringer, for a two-week vacation in Florida.
 Lester Schmiden and John Marr visited Juniata College in Huntington Tuesday. Lester is a senior this year, and may attend this college, where his sister, Helen, is a senior.
 Howard Sorenson, manager of the Penn Theatre for the past six years, has been transferred to Huntingdon, Pa., to a drive-in theatre. Mr. and Mrs. Sorenson, daughter and two sons moved Tuesday. They were accompanied by Mrs. Harry Mickel, who will return in a few days.

April Fifth Is Deadline For Pa. Job Applications

Harrisburg — The State Civil Service Commission today issued a reminder that April 5 is the closing date for filing applications for three examination programs for a variety of positions in civil service agencies.

Ralph D. Tye, SCSC Executive Director, said written examinations will be combined for administration on April 27. Eligible lists for painters, cooks, nursing assistant I and II, food service workers and domestic workers will be established as a result of this test. Positions in these classes pay entrance salaries ranging from $2086 to $3234.

Examinations for caseworkers, clerk stenographers I and II, hearing stenographers, clerk typists will also be held for applicants who wish to compete for positions in the various agencies served by the Commission. Tests will also provide for the qualification of incumbents in the key punch operator class. Competitive examinations have been scheduled periodically throughout the remainder of this year.

Mr. Perrin called a meeting for all men of the church to be held in the parish house next Sunday afternoon at four o'clock when it is expected plans will be completed for a dinner-meeting to be held in the near future.

Time Running Out For Late Filers Of Income Tax Reports

Time is running out for late filers on Federal income tax returns for 1956. Unlike last year when taxpayers had a couple of extra days to file, because it was Leap Year, this year's deadline occurs at week's opening, Monday, April 15. This was the reminder passed on today by District Director John H. Binger whose Internal Revenue Service Office at Pittsburgh is getting plenty of mail but not as much as he expected from this district of Western Pennsylvania taxpayers.

Filers who expect to compute their taxes from last year's income and expense records had better start record-searching and soul-searching right now, Director Binger warns. Those who will compute on the standard basis and its flat 10 per cent deduction shouldn't lose any time either, he emphasized.

Checks or money orders for any taxes still owed should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service and sent to the District Director's Office at Pittsburgh, Pa. The local office at Warren will only be open four more days for assistance to taxpayers, April 5, 8, 12 and the last day April 15th. Regular closing hours will be observed on all of these days.

Youngsville Will Go On Fast Time Starting April 27

Youngsville — Borough Council, at its April meeting Monday evening, adopted a resolution setting April 27 to October 26 as the period for Daylight Saving Time schedule in 1957.

Burgess Kay and four members were in attendance, the Rev. Gregory Rowley gave the invocation, and routine reports included bills in the sum of $3,712.34, which were approved for payment. The police report showed one arrest for Section 625; seven calls, four doors unlocked, one gas pump, two accidents, three lights out, three logs disposed of, one funeral police. For parking violations, 75 tickets were issued. Meter collection for March was $361.57. Police spent three hours in court. J. Thompson, police justice, paid fines collected for March $52.50.

Two ordinances, one authorizing construction of a sanitary sewer on Division street, from Fifth to Sixth street, and one for construction of a sanitary sewer on Sixth from Division street, easterly to a manhole on Sixth street, were adopted.

Raymond Barton, tax collector, paid in taxes in the sum of $204.08. Council accepted the exoneration list as presented by Tax Collector Barton for 1956 in the sum of $679.89 and additional exoneration for 1955 in the sum of $145.40.

Solicitor S. Knox Harper is to study further an agreement for the purchase of Miller parking meters from Kountz Equipment Corp. as outlined by a representative of the firm, as the agreement may relate to competitive bidding for such purchases.

Bobbie Lehman presented to council a petition requesting the opening of proposed Third street. As there is some general opposition by two property owners abutting on the proposed street, Mr. Lehman stated he will, if necessary, open the 20 feet which he owns from North Main through to High street, as a private drive and will open the north side of the drive for building lots.

The resignation of Walter C. Dale was not accepted at this meeting, but will be given further consideration at the adjourned meeting of the council to be held Monday, April 15, 1957.

Supt. Sanford was granted permission to attend the Sewage Works School which will be held at State College each Wednesday starting April 3, 1957, and continuing each Wednesday for five weeks.

Burgess Kay reported that he had checked with the Highway Dept. at Franklin in regard to the bridge crossing Matthews Run on Highland avenue, and although new construction is not scheduled by the Highway Department for this year, further investigation is to be made as to the possibility of securing grades which will enable the construction of new sidewalks through this section.

Homes For Aged in the State

Are Alerted on Fire Safety

Harrisburg—The Welfare Department is waging an all out war to prevent fires in institutions housing elderly and handicapped persons so that Pennsylvania will not be faced with similar tragedies as those which occurred in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and Warrenton, Missouri, Deputy Secretary Norman Lourie announced today.

"We have taken an instructive warning from the misfortunes of others and we intend to have safe institutions in this state even if it means padlocking some of our homes", Lourie said.

Through the assistance and cooperation of the Fire Chiefs Association of the State of Pennsylvania, letters from Welfare Secretary Harry Shapiro have been mailed to every fire chief in the Commonwealth asking their assistance in this important matter. The letters request the fire officials visit each institution in their area so that the fire fighters may become acquainted with the layout of each home. This will enable them to know the whereabouts of all bed and ambulatory patients. Included in these visits would be all nursing, convalescent homes, commercial and non-profit homes for the aged and county homes.

The letters also requested the fire chiefs to instruct the administrators of the homes and institutions how to conduct fire drills and how to use fire fighting equipment.

At the same time requests have been sent out to officials of every institution housing elderly and handicapped persons asking them to conduct fire drills and to take every safety measure necessary to prevent the starting of fires.

At the request of the Bureau of Services for the Aging, Esther L. Brinkman, president of the Pennsylvania Association of Nursing and Convalescent Homes, officially asked all nursing home administrators to cooperate fully with the Welfare Department officials in this matter.

Elias Cohen, Director of the Bureau of Services for the Aging of the Welfare Department, said, "The Secretary has given us the green light to put as much teeth in this preventive effort as we need to make it effective."

This means that if necessary the names of all known violators will be sent to the Department of Labor and Industry for possible use of the Panic Act, under which the fire safety measures are enforced. It also means that after a thorough investigation is made of homes which fail to cooperate, the license of such homes may be revoked, Mr. Cohen explained.

"In plain words these measures could mean criminal prosecution and loss of income to persistent violators," Cohen pointed out.

Deputy Secretary Lourie said, "These may appear to be tough measures but we feel it is far better for all concerned to be tough now so we won't be sorry later."

Large Number of

Taxpayers Fail To

Send in Reports

While 1956 Federal income tax returns have been coming in at a steady pace in recent weeks, more than 775,000 taxpayers, based on last year's figures, still have not been filed, District Director, John H. Bingler, of the Pittsburgh office of the Internal Revenue Service announced today.

Mr. Bingler pointed out that the format of this year's forms are almost identical with last year's, and that taxpayers whose income and deductions are similar to last year's should have little trouble preparing and filing their returns.

"Actually," Mr. Bingler said, "We've made the taxpayer's problems simpler by better coordination between the form and the instruction booklet. We've also brought information direct to the taxpayer through expanded use of cooperating newspapers and other informational facilities, and we have extended our telephone information service while maintaining our office assistance program.

"Most taxpayers will find the short Form 1040 or the card Form 1040-A adequate for their returns. With their revised instruction booklets, each is now a practical step-by-step guide to proper return preparation. Even taxpayers with special problems, who require the long Form 1040, will find the going much easier this year.

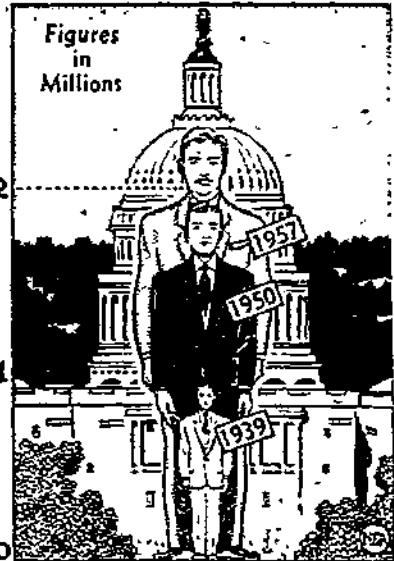

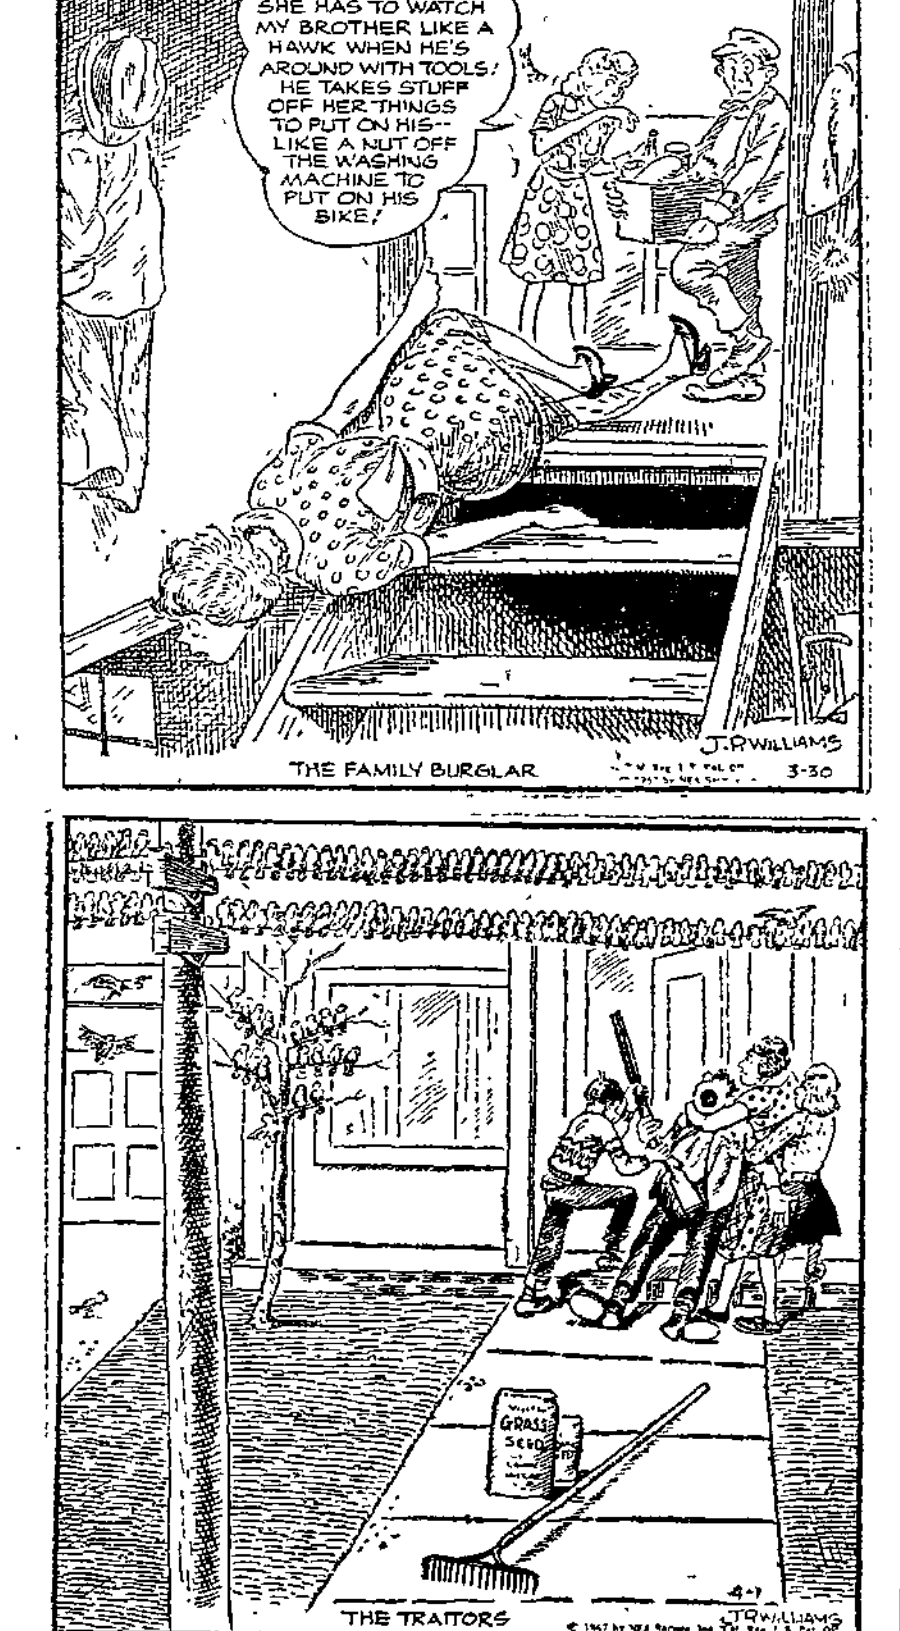

"All we ask is that everyone who still hasn't filed give it a try—but do it now, so that sufficient time can be taken for a recheck."

Returns should be sent to the district office at Pittsburgh, Pa. Checks or money orders in payment of any taxes owed should be made payable to the Internal Revenue Service.

OUT OUR WAY By J. R. Williams

GROWING ARMY — An army of 2,375,000 federal employees is 300,000 federal employees too many, says Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-SC), who will sponsor a bill to lop that many off. The Senate Civil Service Committee chairman says it would save a billion dollars a year without hurting essential services or firing career employees. Newschart compares growth of federal employe army since prewar days.

Employers' Tax Forms

Delayed in Delivery

John H. Bingler, District Director of Internal Revenue, announced a delay in the mailing of Employer's Quarterly Social Security and Withholding Tax Forms, Form 941, due to a breakdown of one of the addressograph machines in the Pittsburgh office. However, it is expected that this difficulty will be corrected so that the Forms 941 will be in the hands of all employers by April 8, 1957.

Mr. Bingler urges all employers to use the forms which are pre-addressed and contain a master list number. This speeds the processing of the returns after they have been filed. This office will follow a general policy of denying requests for additional copies to those employers who have been mailed a pre-addressed form.

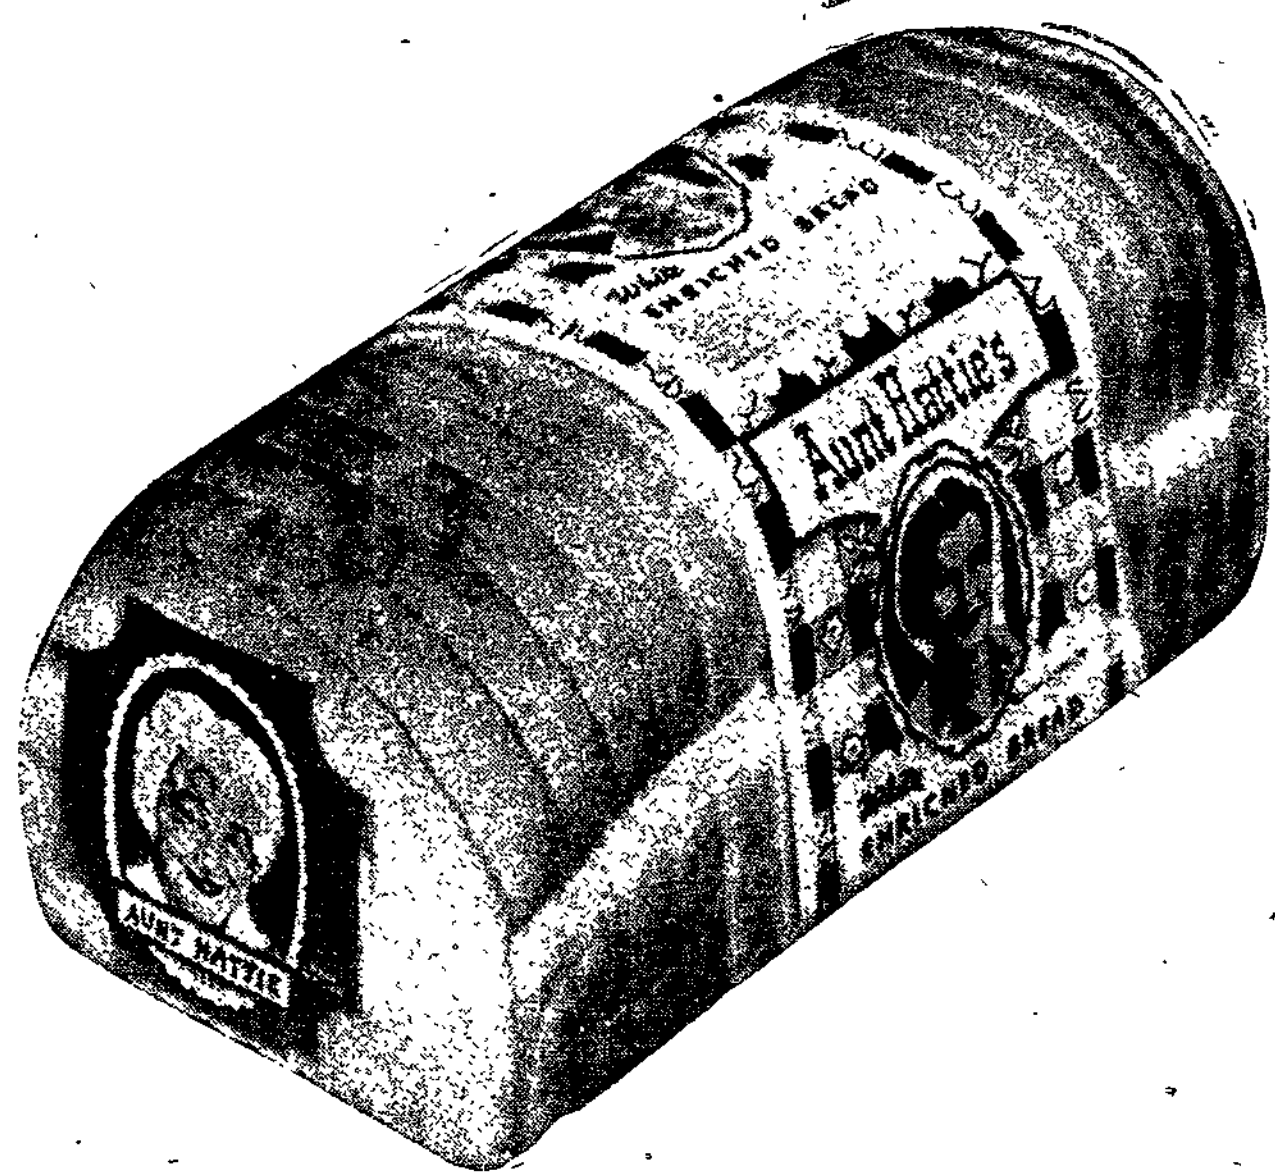

Mr. Bingler added that new employers subject to employment tax should apply for an Identification Number with the District Director or the nearest office of the Social Security Administration by filing Form SS-4. Employers are cautioned to file returns and pay the tax when due in order to avoid penalties.

40,000,000 To Move From One Home To Another This Year

A record-breaking 40 million Americans are expected to move from one home to another during 1957, Carl R. Elmquist of Warren Transfer & Storage Company said on his return from a regional meeting of agents of North American Van Lines, Inc., held in Pittsburgh.

The number of people making moves is one of the best business barometers there is, Elmquist said, since most people do not take chances on moving from one place to another unless they are confident of continuing good times.

The 40 million expected to move this year compares with an average of about 30 million a year since the end of World War II.

In addition to a discussion of business prospects, North American officials gave the delegates to the convention latest information on the newest moving services and equipment.

"It is now possible for us to move a family from Warren to any foreign country as easy as we used to move them next door. We can move them by van, by air, or by ship—door to door—with one company responsible for the entire move," Elmquist said.

North American Van Lines now has 1,100 agents in every section of the United States, as well as in Canada, Alaska, Hawaii, Central and South America and Europe.

Canada's External Affairs Department declared Norman had been cleared of all Communist suspicion by a double security check and Pearson said the U. S. government had been told Norman was a "highly respected and trusted senior official."

Last month's report from the subcommittee was made public despite a State Department request that it not be given out because it might damage U. S. relations with Canada. Following the latest Canadian protest, the State Department had said allegations in the hearing transcript "do not represent opinions of the United States government."

Helm also said a veto would mean the legislature would discard new enforcement provisions adopted by the House last night as part of a bipartisan agreement.

These amendments are separate from those on the governor's desk. They are the result of a compromise session between Leader and GOP and Democratic legislative leaders last Sunday night.

They are confined principally to enforcement and make no changes in the industrial exemptions previously passed by the Republican legislature.

The House and Senate adjourned until next week.

P. O. Dep't Suspending The Erie District Office

(AP Special Washington Service)

Washington (AP)—A Post Office Department experiment to free district managers from paper work to devote more time to field investigations will be tried out in Central and Western Pennsylvania, beginning Saturday.

The plan was announced here yesterday.

It involves consolidating separate district operations offices and district transportation offices at Pittsburgh, Harrisburg and Erie into two all-inclusive "postal district offices" in Pittsburgh and Harrisburg. Erie's district operations office will be temporarily suspended but field service personnel will be maintained in that city.

New Wave of Tornadoes Sweeping Midwest States

Dallas (AP)—A new wave of tornadoes in the wake of death dealing twisters in Texas and Oklahoma Tuesday faded today, leaving only relatively minor damage.

The death toll in Dallas' Tuesday tornado remained at 10 dead and almost 200 injured. In Oklahoma, the death tolls remained at five—two at Little City, two at Durant and one near Ardmore. A 16th tornado death occurred the same day at Ben Franklin, in east Texas.

Scattered tornadoes, only a few of which struck the ground, were sighted near Dallas and in east Texas yesterday. The line of turbulent weather spawned tornado winds and twisters as it moved eastward through Arkansas, Mississippi, Tennessee and Kentucky during the night.

In another major appointment, the Defense Department announced that Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, now commander in chief of United Nations forces in Korea, will become vice chief of staff of the Army effective July 1.

Lemnitzer will be succeeded in the U. N. Command by Gen. George H. Decker, now deputy commander of U. S. forces in Europe.

"Operation Moveout" Is Planned by Erie C. D.

Erie (AP)—Erie County Civil Defense leaders seek to recruit 1,000 Erie families to take part in "Operation Moveout," a practice evacuation during a simulated atomic attack April 26-27.

David Parmenter, county civil defense director, said yesterday the families would be recruited in a door-to-door canvass.

He said they would be lodged overnight in nearby Girard, Albion, Union City, Springfield and Waterford.

Parmenter said the federal government will furnish 3,000 cots which would be set up in schools, churches, camps and private homes.

Rep. Carroll D. Kearns (R-Pa.) said he is trying to secure federal surplus food to feed the evacuees Friday night and Saturday morning.

Catholics who participate will be granted a special dispensation to eat meat at the Friday evening meal.

Britain Is Planning Radical Change in Defense Program

London (AP)—Britain today announced a sweeping revision of her defense program designed to abolish the draft by 1960 and cut the armed forces from 690,000 men to 375,000 within five years.

Described as "the biggest change in military policy ever made in normal times," the new program slashes defense costs by 783 million dollars in 1957-58. It scraps further development of supersonic bombers and fighters on the theory that these piloted aircraft will be replaced by guided missiles including some to be furnished by the United States.

Included in the outbacks was a newly disclosed decision to withdraw Britain's troops from Libya and Korea. Date of the withdrawal was not given, but military sources expect them "fairly soon."

Britain's revised defense bill for 1957-58 was estimated at $3,976,000,000.

As outlined a year ago, the program would have cost about $4,760,000,000.

The revised program is based largely on the supply of guided missiles which Britain will be receiving from the United States.

ENGRAVER BACK IN ORDER
We are pleased to report that our Fairchild Scan-a-graver machine, on which pictures are made for publication in the paper, is back in working order after having been overhauled by Carl Munich, Pittsburgh, regular service men who arrived Wednesday afternoon. The fact that the machine has been out of order explains the poor quality of pictures this week, and also the fact that some were withheld until repairs could be made.

Pitching Staff of Phils Has Manager Smith Gloating Some

By JOE REICHLER
Clearwater, Fla. (P) — Ask Manager Mayo Smith about his Philadelphia Phillies and he starts spouting about his pitching staff. It's obvious he has little else to gloat about. If it weren't for the pitching, the team would be a candidate for the cellar. Even with it, the Phils face a stern fight to regain their fifth-place rating of 1956.

The club's biggest need last winter was a shortstop—and it still is. It is almost certain now that John Kennedy, who has done all his professional playing with the Kansas City Monarchs, will be the first Negro member of the Phillies. Although not yet on the roster, Kennedy is a cinch to be brought to Philadelphia and may even open the season at shortstop.

The guess is that Kennedy, 26, will not long be the No. 1 shortstop if at all. The brass is skeptical concerning his ability. He is being brought up, however, because his excellent work during the spring training ground, when he paced the entire club at bat with a 500 average up to last week.

The Phillies have other weaknesses, to be sure. They are short on power, they don't have an established right fielder, they must rely on the man on a rookie at first base and speed is not among their few virtues. It probably is the only club in history that may be forced to two-platoon four positions—first base, second base, shortstop and right field.

"Our pitching will have to hold us up," conceded Smith. "We don't figure to get many runs. At least, we haven't been scoring too many runs this spring. Our power is going to have to come from Rip Repulski, Wilhe Jones and Stan Dopata. We could use a good long ball left-handed hitter."

Dodgers and Braves Facing Two-Team Battle in Midwest

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press
It's an improbable itinerary, but what likely will be the best two-team fight for the National League pennant currently is holding one-day stands in Jacksonville, San Antonio, Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Tulsa, Wichita and Kansas City.

That's the route—teamed "the Pneumonia Circuit" by Brooklyn Dodger President Walter O'Malley—to be followed by the champion Dodgers and the "we'll-do-it-this-time" Milwaukee Braves as they wind their way home to start the real thing.

They looked for real in Jacksonville yesterday, wrestling through 10 innings to a 2-all tie and leaving it that way to enable the Braves to hop a commercial airliner for San Antonio. The Dodgers use their private plane for such things.

Don Newcombe, pitching for the Dodgers, was tagged for seven hits in his six frames—one a secondinning, and first-of-the-season, home run by Bobby Thomson, and another a fourth-inning home run by Johnny Logan, who was 4-for-4. Clem Labune finished on the mound.

Newk squatted it at 1-all with a home run in the third and the Dodgers then made it 2-1 in their fourth on a Duke Snider single, a walk and Gmo Cimoli's single.

Young Ray Crane went nine and then gave way to Corky Valentine's hitless 10th.

In other games, the Detroit Tigers scored three in the 10th to beat the St. Louis Cardinals 8-5, a two-run home by rookie Jim Landis brought the Chicago White Sox an 8-4 decision over the New York Yankees; and the Washington Senators, used Cincinnati's prime weapon, the home run, to beat the Redlegs 4-3.

Philadelphia clipped Boston's Red Sox 3-1 on a three-run double by winning pitcher Harvey Had-dix Cleveland pushed across nine runs in the seventh to whack the New York Giants 13-6. Pittsburgh finally scored against Kansas City, beating the A's 2-0. And the Chicago Cubs ruined Mike Fooinieles' full-route show by beating Baltimore 6-2.

ROADMASTER 75

Custom Built by Buick

NOW ON DISPLAY

A NEW CONCEPT in motorcar excellence awaits just introduced.

You will see what we mean the first time you glimpse the interior.

The impeccable tailoring and taste of the rich appointments are as obvious as the comfort is opulent.

The seats, for example.

They are meticulously fashioned in glove-finished fabrics of broadcloth or Nylon, with backs topped in supple, hand-buffed leather. They are thickly layered with contoured foam rubber. They are wide, deep, superbly soft.

The doors present a new standard of luxury and restfulness—fully upholstered and softly cushioned from floor line to window.

The instrument panel, below the safety cushion, is chromed from end to end. The deep-ple carpeting is backed by foam. The integral arm-rests are fully in keeping with the spacious grace of the car.

The complete interior is matched by the mechanical excellence that is ROADMASTER tradition.

Indeed, nowhere else among the world's fine cars can you enjoy superb performance quite like that of a ROADMASTER 75—from the instant response of its brilliant new Dynaflo, to the smooth obedience of its all-new air-cooled aluminum front brakes—newest and the finest in the fine-car field.

Grayson's Scoreboard

NEW YORK (NEA)—There was considerable enthusiasm among physical culture experts when Don Larsen of the Yankees began this spring with the proclamation that he did not intend to go for anything more frothy than a whirlpool bath.

To most people, it came as something of a shock when Larsen pitched that game. Compounding the felony was news that between innings that day, he was found comfortably slouched in the dugout runway, pulling on a cigar.

For the athlete, according to common conception, is a strong-backed guy who is very heavy in the milk department and sleeps like he gets paid for it.

So it always comes as sort of a shock to walk into a locker room during a big tournament and see Ben Hogan casually order a Scotch and soda or to find Yogi Berra, can of beer in one hand, cigar in the other, sitting atop a club-house trunk after catching a tough game.

AND THE OTHER DAY, Willie Knapp, the old jockey, finished a pre-lunch cocktail and struck what seemed to be a mighty blow for temperance in the world of sports. It was Willie, the race charts show, who guided Upset to victory over Man o' War at Saratoga in that still-talked-of race.

"I knew I was going to win in the morning," Willie said. "I had an idea Johnny Loftus, who rode Man o' War, wasn't feeling too well. He had been out the night before. I kind of tricked him at the start. You could do that in those days, and he didn't catch as quick as he might have."

Knapp changed the subject to his present occupation, supervising the give-away of a $15,000 Your Host colt in a pick-the-name contest run by Kentucky Club, lest somebody get the notion he was pinning Upset's victory on happenstances away from the track.

Which he really didn't have to do. For some time, extensive research has been made on this subject. Conclusions drawn seem to run along the lines of an utterance by Morris (Whitey) Bimstein, the fight trainer.

"COUPLE DRINKS," Whitey noted, "don't hurt nobody. Some of the guys I handle could do with it, too. Might make them forget themselves and go out and put up a fight."

Whitey—and most other fight trainers—always has a potent mixture of brandy in his kit for between-rounds administering to his fighters.

Earlier this spring, Mickey Mantle was observed by a diligent research at Miami Springs, Fla. Mantle was perched on a stool which was drawn up perilously close to a bar. The Yankee slugger probably will hit his normal ton. A 200 hitter might gain some important knowledge from this.

PHYSICAL CONDITION for an athlete, you see, is not a thing which can be lost—or attained—overnight. You get in shape and stay that way throughout a period of years. A drink here and there isn't going to make much difference.

"Nobody," Toots Shor rasps, "ever blew a ball game in my joint. They lose on the field, not here."

This carries over to sports writing. There was a top Boston columnist, for example, who had to be hastily dried out by his paper when the story broke that the Braves were leaving town for Milwaukee.

Shakily, the writer informed his public that he was hopping mad at Owner Lou Perini, but "as I do not feel so well today I cannot summon my full wrath on this man. Tomorrow I shall do so."

The next day he blistered Perini with a column from which many still insist the style for Peyton Place was taken.

Greatest Golfers Hitting Off in the Master Tournament

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—The world's greatest golfers hit off today in the 21st Masters Tournament.

Poised Harve Ward, Jr. of San Francisco is an extra-strong threat to become the first amateur ever to win the championship.

A vote for Ward, national amateur champion the past two years, was registered by Byron Nelson, a two-time victor playing in the event for the 20th time. "Harvie is hitting the ball velously, the best ever for I think," said Nelson, who has been excused for a slight pre-judgment in the case of the young man helped develop. "I don't say take Ward against the field. I'd be inclined to match him with any other player in the tournament."

Nelson indicated that this included such favorites as Cary decock and Ben Hogan, with whom he had practice rounds last week.

Shantz Is Proving Surprise Package Of Ten-Man Deal

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—When he Yankees made their big 10-man deal with Kansas City six weeks ago, everybody called Art Shantz the key player in the swap. Now it begins to appear that little Bobby Shantz may be the surprise package.

Ever since 1952 when Bobby wound the New York club around his finger and won the title of "fifth infielder" with his ball-snaring ability, Casey Stengel has drooled at the mention of Shantz.

"That little fella", as Casey calls him, has won only 13 games while losing 26 in the four years since that glorious season when he was the Most Valuable Player in the American League and top winner among the pitchers, with a 24-7 season.

That was the year of the rain-spattered All-Star Game in Philadelphia at Connie Mack Stadium, Shantz's home park, where he pitched only one inning and struck out Whitey Lockman, Jackie Robinson and Stan Musial.

Shantz's career ran into a discouraging series of broken bones and arm and back miseries after that. In 1954 he pitched only eight innings all season. The next year he got into 23 games and last appeared in 45 for Kansas City, where he moved with the franchise after the '54 season.

United States submarines sank 214 naval and 1178 merchant vessels in World War II operations against the Axis powers.

Southpaw Buc Pitcher Shuts Out Athletics 2-0

Fort Myers, Fla. (AP)—Bob Kuzava, veteran southpaw pitcher who is trying to land a job with the Pittsburgh Pirates, may have done just that yesterday as the Pirates shut out the Kansas City Athletics, 2-0 at West Palm Beach.

Kuzava, now on the roster of Columbus, Ohio, club in the International League, worked four innings against the Athletics. He gave up five hits but didn't issue a walk and in his one jam, in the second inning, he got out of trouble with a double play.

The Pirates yesterday traded utility infielder Dick Cole to the Milwaukee Braves for Jim Pendleton who can be used in both the outfield and infield. Each player is 31 years old.

Pendleton played only 14 games with the Braves last season. In 69 games with Wichita of the American Association he had a .289 batting average.

Cole, who came to the Pirates in a trade with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1951, hit .212 last season.

Rochester Americans In Championship Round

Providence, R. I. (AP)—The surprising Rochester Americans held a berth in the championship round of the American Hockey League playoffs for the Calder Cup today after sweeping past the powerful Providence Reds.

The Americans became the first club in AHL history to gain the title round in its first year in the league by defeating the Reds, 4-2, last night to win their best-of-seven series, 4-1.

Rochester will meet the winner

Zulueta Captures a Many Streams and Split Decision In Lakes Will Receive Battle With Lopes Trout Allotments

By WHITNEY SHOEMAKER
Washington (AP)—Orlando Zulueta, getting little rest from his latest victory, nonetheless declared himself ready today to take on Joe Brown for the world's lightweight title.

Whether the Havana tapper will get his chance at the crown remains to be seen.

He captured a split decision last night from Joey Lopes of Sacramento, but was anything but devastating in triumph. And he didn't convince the audience—1,287 paid—in Capital Arena. A national audience was tuned in on television and radio ABC.

The verdict was noisily booed, and all the cheers were accorded the loser.

Zulueta, meeting Lopes as a substitute for the injured Paolo Rosi, won on two cards. Referee Volkman favored him 99-94 and Judge Benny Alperstein, 96-95. Judge Charley Buck gave Lopes a 97-94 edge. The Associated Press also had Lopes ahead, 97-95.

of the Hershey-Cleveland series, which resumes tonight in Hershey with matters deadlocked 2-2. The sixth game will be in Cleveland Saturday.

The Americans jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first 10 minutes and went on to overpower the Reds and wind up their series. Providence won the AHL championship and Calder Cup in the 1955-56 campaign and then captured the league championship again this year.

Every stream and lake in Pennsylvania approved by the Fish Commission for trout plantings will receive at least a portion of their total allotments for this year by the time the 1957 trout season opens on April 15, according to an announcement by Dewey Sorenson, Superintendent of Hatcheries.

Sorenson said, "This has become possible because an excellent job of maintenance on our delivery trucks, despite their age and high mileage, has enabled us to take complete advantage of the favorable weather since March 1, when the stocking program for the current season got underway."

The announcement amends the earlier expressed possibility that some of the state's waters might not be stocked prior to opening day this year, due to the later than usual start of the distribution program. In 1956, the first truck rolled out of the hatcheries on February 3, with the scheduled pre-season plantings completed just prior to the opening day. After a two-week pause, the so-called mid-season program got underway and was completed by mid-June.

This year, the program will continue without pause and is scheduled for completion by June 30.

The later start in the current year was to bring fish plantings "closer to the creek". By way of explanation, Sorenson said, "The Fish Commission feels that by lessening the time between planting and the open season, a greater number of these hatchery reared trout will survive the rigors of early season stream conditions and be available to the fishermen. Also, by sparing our equipment the adverse highway conditions common to February, the stocking job will be done more economically and quicker."

Private Recession of Home Building Industry Is Causing An Easing Up of Tight Money

New York (AP) — The private recession of the home building industry is causing the government to ease up on part of its tight money policy. Many congressmen are in the mood to prime the pump still more.

It's an official recognition that in one area of the economy, at least, the threat appears to be from deflation, not inflation.

But a number of builders and lenders today question whether there'll be a big spurt in home building again until the entire money and credit situation eases itself—as they think it will may be in the next few months through operation of the law of supply and demand.

Builders say they can't find the money to finance mortgages. Lenders argue there's money available—at a price and for the better risks.

The government's move is to lower the required downpayments on mortgages guaranteed by the federal housing administration.

The new rules call for a minimum down payment of $750 on a $12,000 house. This is a drop of $240. The aim: to make it easier for families who can get up the $750, but who didn't have $990, to start payments on a new home.

Bankers and other lenders point out that most of them have required considerably more of a down payment than the $990—closer to 20 per cent, or $2,400.

Also most lenders have been discounting the FHA mortgages by three per cent or more. That is, the borrower gets 97 per cent of the face value of the mortgage, although he must repay at 100 per cent, and his interest is figured on the entire amount. This is a move to get around the lower interest rates on government-backed mortgages.

Bankers say it was this discounting practice, rather than the size of downpayments, that has deterred builders and home buyers.

Lenders argue that lowering the down payment even further won't bring out any money for investors who have been showing preference for the conventional mortgage, which usually carries considerably higher rates than the FHA variety—although in December the government raised the FHA interest rate to 5 per cent from 4 1/2 per cent. Housing starts have continued to drop since then.

The money market has eased a little this year. George W. Warnecke, who heads a national real estate investment firm, predicts in an interview there will be further but temporary easing in the next few months—mainly because there will be less demand for loans from business and industry and partly because there is less home building under way.

Interesting Items From Warren State Hospital Occasional

The current issue of "The Occasional", Warren State Hospital publication, contains a number of paragraphs of general interest, among which are the following:

In a recent issue of The Lake Shore Visitor, leading Catholic publication in the Erie Diocese, favorable publicity was given to the call of Mrs. Ethel C. Urbaitis, Director of Volunteer Services at Warren State Hospital, for volunteer help by persons living outside the immediate vicinity of Warren county. "Pointing out that many local Warren residents now volunteer their time in behalf of Hospital patients," said The Lake Shore Visitor, "Mrs. Urbaitis added that individuals or groups living outside Warren could help the program in several ways." As examples, Mrs. Urbaitis listed the following: Arranging for subscriptions to local newspapers from towns in the northwestern Pennsylvania counties served by the big Hospital, supplying refreshments for parties for patients or providing money for these parties, purchasing a permanent wave for some patient without funds, "adopting" one or more patients without families by showing them special interest, and by making gifts for general use in patients' wards.

Through Volunteer Services, the Pre-School Mothers' Group of Warren, has taken a lively interest in the daily activities of patients on Ward 2-24. They are collecting puzzles which appear in large pieces as well as other play materials which can readily be used. They recently packed a large box of these gifts. Joining in this activity is the North Warren Brownie Troop whose members are collecting books, puzzles and dolls. In addition, the North Warren Presbyterian Women's Association donated $25 for 2-24 patients, and one of the results is a plastic clock by which they are learning to tell time. The devoted attendants on this ward are conducting classes to benefit the patients.

The male half of the proposes Mixed Chorus has 25 faithful singers who gather at 1:30 p. m. each Friday in the auditorium for tutelage by Director of Music Lloyd Van Tassel. Difficult 4-part harmony has been undertaken with good success. The men are not only learning to sing but are becoming adept at reading music.

The Chorus operates under the A. Capella plan without piano accompaniment. Last week the men did an old hymn, "Rock of Ages," in 4-part harmony. Mr. Van Tassel reports rapt attention on the part of all. The Director says he can use anyone who can read music to any degree or who wants to learn music.
